Resolution Provides New Government For City of Pahokee

City Manager, Police Chief, Fire Chief, Town Clerk, Tax Assessor, Building Inspector To Be Hired By City Council

At next Thursday's meeting of the Pahokee Rotary club that organization will vote on a resolution which calls for the election of a new city government in Pahokee.

Yesterday the resolution was adopted by a vote of 10-0. The resolution was discussed at length before the hour of adjournment was reached and consideration of the resolution was automatically postponed until next Thursday.

The resolution is as follows: "RESOLVED that the town council of Pahokee institute a bill at the next session of the State Legislature to amend the town charter and create a City Manager form of government for the town."

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the town charter be amended to create a governing body of five councilmen elected by the people. The mayor in turn to be elected from among the five councilmen.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the town charter be amended to eliminate the election of the Chief of Police and Town Clerk and that the Town Council be empowered to hire or appoint a City Manager, a Town Clerk, a Fire Chief, a Town Engineer, a Building Inspector, and other employees of the town to be appointed and approved by the Town Council upon approval of the recommendations of the respective department heads.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the necessary bill be drawn for presentation at the session of the State Legislature to meet in April 1945.

Work Is Complete On "Milestones"

Work on "Milestones," the annual book being prepared by the Pahokee High School Senior Class, is nearing completion and will be ready for the printer by the end of the week.

Miss Betty Lou Frazier, chief editor, is in charge of the book. Because of wartime conditions this is the first annual publication of the Pahokee High School since 1941. Work on the annual started in January. 225 copies will be printed and it is expected to be ready for distribution before the end of the current school year.

Revival At Canal Point Methodist

One of the most inspirational of the revivalists, Rev. J. R. Hester, pastor of the Canal Point Methodist Church, is expected to arrive in the area for the first time, giving new life to the singing under the enthusiastic leadership of Mr. R. Hester. Men like to be in the presence of men who are not hesitant to open up when with men. The Class Quartet, consisting of Messrs. Spencer, Turner and Grimes, sang a regular contribution. A note of appreciation is extended to the pastor for the objective of eighty for Easter Sunday. Roy Vandegrift has been singing on the radio, and knowing his ability to do things, the objective of the goal is as achieved.

Physical Ed Class Entertains P.T.A. In Monthly Meet

Members of the Pahokee Parent-Teacher Association who failed to attend the March meeting in the school auditorium Monday night missed one of the most original and excellently performed programs of the year which was presented by Miss Jane Mitchell, girls physical education director of the Pahokee High School, and members of her classes.

The program consisted of a series of dance interpretations of the new round after round of applause from the audience. The first was an old-fashioned square dance called "Skip To My Lou." This was followed by a performance with the girls attired in beautiful Latin-American costumes. In a fantasy entitled "Dolls That Came To Life," the physical ed girls assumed the P.T.A. members with a variety of tumbling and acrobatic stunts which were performed with a skill approaching professional standards.

After the new square dance program came to an end with a beautiful dance interpretation of the negro spiritual, "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen," which was performed with a skill approaching professional standards.

Carl A. Moberg, program chairman, gave praise to the school's room mothers and introduced Mrs. A. Moberg, chairman, Mrs. H. Schaefer, secretary, Mrs. J. Schaefer, treasurer, Mrs. J. Schaefer, and Mrs. J. Schaefer, members of the room mothers are doing a splendid job of making the school a better place for the children.

Clubs Join Work To Gather Salvage In This Section

Plans to get the local salvage drive under way immediately were completed by Pahokee Lions at their Tuesday luncheon meeting. It was announced activities would be concentrated on three salvage materials, namely, tin, old clothing and paper. The Elks will be in charge of the collecting of tin, the Rotarians, old clothing, and the Lions, waste paper.

President L. J. Fraser appointed George Hutton chairman of the Lions spring waste paper drive. It was decided to enlist the support of local Boy Scouts in the drive. Frank Rouse, chairman of the North Glades District, GSC of Belle Glade, volunteered to organize the Pahokee scouts for this work. Mr. Rouse will direct salvage activities of the Canal Point Scouts. All school children also will be asked to participate in the drive with Roy Pope and Ronald Stanley, student members of the Lions Club, in charge of the work at school.

Week Of Prayer Is Observed In Pahokee

Members of the Pahokee First Baptist Women's Missionary Union are ending their week of prayer observance for home missions with an Friday morning service at 10:30 a. m. There will be a luncheon at noon and all members are urged to be present at this important meeting.

Two special meetings in observance of week of prayer were held at the church earlier in the week on Monday and Tuesday afternoons. Miss Elizabeth Caraway was in charge of the program on Monday and Mrs. Stella Mullis, on Tuesday.

Souvenirs May Prove Fatal

Almost daily accounts are seen in the press of deaths and injuries due to objects of this kind are always potentially dangerous unless they have been examined and reduced harmless by someone who is an expert in such work. This danger will progressively increase as more and more of our service men return, bringing with them souvenirs from all over the world, and will probably be at its worst after the war is over and the various military possessions, especially ranges of various kinds, are abandoned by the services.

Mrs. George M. Schroeder and daughter, Beverly, of Natchez, Miss., have arrived here for a visit with Mrs. Schroeder's mother and aunt, Mrs. R. J. Schroeder.

Nearly A Million $ For Construction Of Roads In The Glades

The tentative budget of the State Road Department for 1945 has been set up and contains a great deal of road construction work for Palm Beach county, especially the Everglades section. On Monday (the next week) the budget will be adopted by the state road board at a meeting in Tampa and it is hoped that all of the projects itemized below will become a permanent part of the budget.

Paul Rardin, county commissioner from the Glades district, will accompany other county officials to Tampa where an effort will be made to include all of these named items in the permanent budget. The local commissioner has been given assurance by state road board officials that a majority of the items will be included in the permanent budget, but it must be understood there are 66 other counties in the state clamoring for state road construction and they will have their representatives at Tampa next Monday.

H. B. Fultz, member of the state road department, who lives in Miami and is thoroughly conversant with the needs of the Glades, has gone on record as saying that he will do what he can to bring about these much-needed improvements.

- | Proposed Road Construction in the Glades Area                                                             |              |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------|
| 12.5 Road 25 from Hendry County line to South Bay (Near completion)                                       | $149,475.00 |
| 1.6 Road 496 From Light Plant Crossing to Pahokee State Farmers Market, (Now completed)                   | 30,000.00    |
| 1.5 Road 143 from Florida East Coast railroad crossing in Pahokee to Canal Point                          | 32,490.00    |
| 5.3 Road 194, Conners Highway from Canal Point to a point east of Azucar                                  | 112,046.00   |
| 7 Road 122 from highway bridge in Belle Glade to packing houses, going down to rock, with 44 foot surface | 96,720.00    |
| 10.15 Road 25 from South Bay via Belle Glade to Six Mile Bridge on the Palm Beach Road                    | 472,588.00   |

This road is only in the proposal stage at this date. The route has not been surveyed by the road department and will not be built this year.

SIGNAL LIGHTS are to be constructed at the Florida East Coast Railroad crossing at the Power plant in Belle Glade and at the crossing in South Bay. These will be paid for out of federal funds.

H. B. FULTZ, member of the state road department, stated Monday that construction of the proposed Racoon Point-South Bay road at this time is out of the question.

EAST COAST sections of Palm Beach county will come in for a fair share of road construction, under the tentative budget. Road 199 from Delray Beach road north to the West Palm Beach canal will be constructed at a cost of $822,154.50. No other new construction is planned on the east coast under this budget.

Group Will Sponsor "Bundles From America"

Members of the Canal Point Methodist, Woman's Society of Christian Service at a meeting at the home of Mrs. T. W. Griffith Tuesday afternoon voted to sponsor a "Bundles from America" sewing project to make garments for the newly liberated people of the Philippines. Mrs. J. S. Harrington, supreme secretary, of the church, is in charge of the project.

Mrs. Oliver Hatfield, Children's work secretary, reported that the intermediate and junior groups of the church are planning to purchase new flags for the church.

Mrs. F. W. Wilson led the devotionals and presented a program on "Three Lives."

It was announced that plans were being made for a WSCS spring study course with Mrs. C. L. Stewart, spiritual life secretary, and Mrs. W. F. Jernigan, chairman of the church, in charge of arrangements. Mrs. J. S. Harrington, treasurer, reported the local WSCS to be in good financial condition.

Martins Now Live In Live Oak, Fla.

Miss Dortha Carpenter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Carpenter of Pahokee and a student at the University of Florida, was a guest of Rev. and Mrs. Fred L. Martin at Live Oak, Fla. Mrs. Martin is the former pastor of the Pahokee Methodist church and after leaving this section was pastor in Fort Lauderdale for several years before going to Live Oak. The Martins wish to be remembered to their many friends in this area.

Little Gene Barwick Dies In Service

Gene Barwick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Barwick of Belle Glade, died in action last Christmas day, according to word received by them from the government. "Little Gene," as he was affectionately called by his friends when the family lived in Canal Point, was 22 years old and his parents believe he was lost on a troop transport that was downed in the English channel on Christmas day, 1944.

Mrs. R. F. Baker of Plant City visited her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Waring in Pahokee over the weekend.

Farmers Selling Products Below Production Cost

Sales prices of many Florida vegetables, for the first time this season, have dropped below the cost of production, with indications that even lower prices may be looked for during the coming months. It was revealed by tabulations of the Florida Vegetable Commission that the cost of production for many of the principal crops is now below the market price.

This surplus turn of events in the Florida vegetable industry is giving growers a foretaste of what they may experience after the war unless drastic steps are taken to modernize the entire process of growing, processing and marketing.

Supplies of cabbage, tomatoes, bean beans and other commodities have been so low for so long a time that the market has been depressed for much of the month of February. And even lower prices may be expected during March unless the farmers take steps to reduce the anticipated yield. Celery prices have been at a fair level, despite inflation, but this is attributed to the fact that the market is glutted with the crop of lettuce. The Irish potato is the only major commodity which is amply supplied for selling winter crops.

There are various reasons for the over-supply. Plantings of all commodities have been heavy, spurred on by reports of crop shortages, and the willingness of the farmer to produce all he can. A disastrous fall season has been followed by excellent winter weather, which promises not only a bumper crop on the lower East Coast but is boosting the estimates of spring yields. It labor is available to harvest these crops, and cars to transport them, Florida farmers face a glut of produce and a selling much of their production at less than inflated war prices.

Some growers have been lower than national agencies predicted. Cold weather has retarded the demand for fresh foods, but the glut of produce is causing a glut of produce. It is labor is available to harvest these crops, and cars to transport them, Florida farmers face a glut of produce and a selling much of their production at less than inflated war prices.

The OPA lowered the retail ceiling on many commodities, but the glut of produce is causing a glut of produce. It is labor is available to harvest these crops, and cars to transport them, Florida farmers face a glut of produce and a selling much of their production at less than inflated war prices.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the necessary bill be drawn for presentation at the session of the State Legislature to meet in April 1945.

Work on the annual started in January. 225 copies will be printed and it is expected to be ready for distribution before the end of the current school year.

Revival At Canal Point Methodist

One of the most inspirational of the revivalists, Rev. J. R. Hester, pastor of the Canal Point Methodist Church, is expected to arrive in the area for the first time, giving new life to the singing under the enthusiastic leadership of Mr. R. Hester. Men like to be in the presence of men who are not hesitant to open up when with men. The Class Quartet, consisting of Messrs. Spencer, Turner and Grimes, sang a regular contribution. A note of appreciation is extended to the pastor for the objective of eighty for Easter Sunday. Roy Vandegrift has been singing on the radio, and knowing his ability to do things, the objective of the goal is as achieved.

MAYOR THOMPSON'S PROPOSAL

(From Palm Beach Post, March 7, 1945)

In proposing the consolidation of Dade County and its 17 municipalities into one governmental unit, Mayor Leonard K. Thompson of Miami is in step with the times.

All over the country there is a rising demand for simplification of government in the interest of efficiency and economy. Even the United States Congress has begun to feel the need of modernizing its own ancient practices, with a view to saving time and money and producing better legislation.

Governmental streamlining is the order of the day. Florida made a small start in that direction last year by approving a constitutional amendment authorizing the consolidation of certain Hillsborough county offices.

A somewhat similar amendment affecting Dade County was thrown off the ballot by a technicality. Beside the Thompson plan, the former ill-fated consolidation proposal looks pale indeed.

What the mayor proposes is abolishment of the present governments of the county and all its municipalities, together with all special tax districts, justice of the peace districts and boards.

To take their place there would be created a countywide municipality to be known as the City and County of Miami, governed by a five-man commission and administered by a city manager.

The offices of county solicitor and all municipal chiefs of police would be eliminated, as would the legal departments of present political subdivisions. Responsibility for all law enforcement would be in the hands of the sheriff.

Since this is purely a Dade County problem, other parts of the State ought to keep hands off. But they can't very well avoid taking an interest in the outcome of this most pretentious governmental consolidation scheme ever proposed in Florida. Its adoption might provide other counties with some useful ideas. If the people really want less expensive and more efficient local government, Mayor Thompson has shown how it can be obtained in Dade County, at least.

bustle and bustle visible from the highway all the distance. To Bradenton. The Ruskin-Palmto area has a rich soil with vegetable section but it has developed beyond belief in the past two years. I was talking with a farmer and asked him if he had any trouble marketing what he raised. "Mister," he said, "I could sell weeds, if I could get help to harvest 'em."

Stopped to see Editor Russell at the Palmto News but he was out telling folks how sorry he was he couldn't take any more advertising. The same thing was true at Bradenton, where they told me that Editor Bob Bentley of the Bradenton Herald was taking the afternoon off because he had a cold—Some day I'm gonna quit working for a living and get me a good job publishing a newspaper.

At Sarasota, Editor George Lindsey was asked with his kind legs on the desk looking over an edition of the Herald-Tribune that had just come off the press. There ought to be a law against anybody crashing a "Sanctum Sanctiorum" when a guy is all settled back comfortable like that, but George excused me cordially and if I attempted to recount in this column all the things he told me about Sarasota and the surrounding country I wouldn't have to write another column for a year. However, the town is jammed and running over with people. Business is rushing and from what I could gather newcomers are building tree houses.

Sleeping at Venice, we found a guy who was willing to reach under the counter and smuggle a couple of coconuts after looking anxiously in both directions, but he was sworn by all that was holy that he didn't have any cigarettes. The Army Air Force has just about taken the town and winter visitors who failed to heed ADF warnings are weaving their previous good leather trying to find a place to stay.

Arrived in Punta Gorda just in time to catch Publisher Jordan before he left for his gigs and snail. Like all newspapermen, he was swamped with work and reamings for help. Had a nice visit with Representative Leo Wootsky, the only guy I know who has more jobs than I have. He serves Charlotte County as its representative, teaches school, edits the Punta Gorda Herald, makes out income tax reports for wealthy natives and I think mows lawns between times, anyhow the boy is plenty smart and whether Floridians know it or not, he is an asset with a capital "A" in Tallahassee. Sorry, Carl Hanton and Ft. Myers, will try and get to you next week.

Florida Marks 100 Years Of Progress

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 8. (FNS) — The State's capital marked Florida's century of statehood without ceremony other than the unfurling of state and national flags from public buildings and placing on sale in the local post office the special commemorative postage stamp issued in honor of the occasion, the first of which was purchased by Mrs. Millard Cakwell. The stamp shows the State seal and the old St. Augustine city gates. It will go on sale throughout the nation this week.

It was on March 3, 1845, the last day President John Tyler, fourth president, was in office that he signed an act of congress which provided that the States of Iowa and Florida be admitted to the Union.

In Washington, Florida's Centennial exhibit in the Library of Congress was officially opened by Senator Claude Pepper.

FAG REVENUE DOWN
TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 8. (FNS) — The cigarette shortage made itself felt in a sharp loss of revenue last month as returns from the sale of tax stamps dropped nearly 25 per cent.

This loss was offset to some extent during the same period by an increase in tax revenue from beer, wines and liquors, of approximately 12 per cent, according to figures released by James T. Velle, State Beverage Director.

sharming girls took their places on a huge 100 by 150 foot map of Florida, made of oranges and grapefruit.

The girls of the court, dressed in typical costumes to represent all major cities of Florida, came in first to stand in their location on the map. Queen Laurel with attendants marched in majestically to be officially crowned in the heart of Florida's citrus kingdom.

While the Florida Orange Festival itself has not been held since Pearl Harbor, a token ceremony and election of a citrus queen each year keeps it alive.

More Americans were reading in 1944 than any previous year since the war began. They wanted to read first about human relations and religion, second about war and the state of the world, according to the American Literary Association. — Fahfinder Magazine.

WINTER HAVEN, Mar. 8. (FNS) — Lovely Laurel White Jordan, 17 year old Winter Haven high school girl, was crowned queen of the Florida Orange Festival at beautiful Cypress Gardens, in a token celebration of Florida's annual all citrus show.

In a colorful coronation ceremony, Queen Laurel was virtually crowned in a kingdom of citrus, when she and her court of 20

My good friend Editor Earl Sellers of the Washington County News, Chipley, pounced on me with hob-nail boots in his last issue, not for what I did say, but because of a lot of things I failed to say about Chipley and Washington County in my recent column dealing with my swing through West Florida.

Reading that particular column over, I can appreciate how Earl felt and I can't say that I blame him, for it's a fact I didn't give his section much more than what the clipping bureau term "mere mention". But it certainly wasn't intentional. You see there is a whole lot of territory between Tallahassee and Pensacola, with a score of lively progressive communities, any one of which would provide ample material for a lengthy feature article if a fellow had had time to gather it and space to publish it. But I covered the territory in that column like it was covered on my trip. Fast.

About all I can say to Earl is what MacArthur said when he left the Philippines, "I'll be back." Column dealing with my swing through West Florida.

I realize now that it would be impossible to do Chipley or any other community justice in a single column. I'll see to it we at least go beyond the "mere mention" stage. And that goes too, for all the other towns out there that may have gained the impression that I deliberately slighted them.

—Anyhow, even my feeble remarks about the area did some good for Editor Carl Hanton of the Ft. Myers News-Press told me that he had forgotten them.

I had planned to take my jaunt, on another level-neck road from Tampa to Miami, in this week's column but in view of the reaction to my previous travel column, maybe I'd better find another subject, but then the editors in South Florida are expecting some attention and while I cannot praise each community a "complete illustrated Chamber of Commerce booklet" I'll try and set down a few random impressions for what they are worth. Provided it is understood that I'm trying to tell the Whole Story.

Somewhere in England... a Red Cross Clubmobile draws up beside the big bombers just back from a mission. Tense and weary, the crews catch sight of the familiar Red Cross... and for a few precious moments tired bodies relax, grim faces break into grins.

For this is a bit of America, this Red Cross Clubmobile... and fortified with hot coffee and "sinks" and good natured kidding with the Red Cross girls, our fighting men are home again for a little while.

These Red Cross "clubs on wheels" are equipped with doughnut machines, writing paper, magazines, hometown newspapers, refrigerators and the latest records. To secret Navy bases in Europe go special Red Cross "fleetmobiles" to serve our men who've been long months at sea... A delightful story... things start to happen right now and they keep happening all through the picture... much to the amusement of all the customers who paid for the hearty laughs they will get through.

On the Tuesday-Wednesday schedule we find "Rabbit Foot" Leon Errol, famous for a comedy characterization of an English peer when he worked with the late Louie Vellez, assisted by Anne Rooney, a very clever young lady, in a piece called "Slightly Terrible."

This piece will be headed with "terrible" laughs and situations and you will enjoy it from the very first frame.

By the same program comes "The Deerslayer" with Bruce Kellogg and Jean Parker. This one was re-released. It was a Western story and is supposed to have been an actual happening in the days of the early pioneers. At any rate it is listed as an action story, so you should find it interesting.

Thursdays-Fridays, lists Lam and Abner, those lovable old rubes of radio fame who enjoy such a large following of listeners over the entire globe. They come in with the picture "Goin' to Town."

Rest assured it will be built for laughing purposes only and I believe you're going to enjoy it.

On the same program is an interesting subject, "New Americans," which rounds out the program.

Saturdays, lists Dave O'Brien and Jim Neill as stars in "Boys of the Beach," which to be sure it is, a picture along with all of the rugged trimmings.

Seek Sheriffs' Aid In Locating Boxes

ORLANDO, Mar. 8. —(FNS)—Alarmed over the acute shortage of citrus field boxes which are almost impossible to replace and very expensive, the United Growers & Shippers appealed this week to the sheriffs of 28 citrus producing counties, urging their cooperation in a more strict enforcement of the statute against illegal use or possession of such field crates or boxes.

In a special bulletin to members of the United Growers organization as well as law enforcement officers, General Manager Muri Pace pointed out that violation of the State statute in this connection have increased to such an extent that legitimate citrus packing houses are suffering tremendous losses through the misuse of this valuable and hard to get equipment.

Section 506.24, Florida statute of 1941 provides that any person who shall have in his unauthorized possession any field box, marked or branded with a registered mark, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. This section provides that the possession by any person of such a field box, in the absence of written authority therefor shall be prima facie evidence of a violation.

It is the clear intention of the law to afford full protection to owners of marked or branded field boxes who have properly filed and registered such marks or brands with the Secretary of State.

Senator Would Abolish State Patrol

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 8. —(FNS)—In a statement here this week, Senator Charley Fox of Stark, went on record in favor of abolishing the State Highway Patrol and any two job, employment and made known his opposition to the Governor's water conservation program.

He proposed a one cent package increase in the cigarette tax and favored a one cent tax on soft drinks as a means of increasing revenue for old age assistance and increased teachers salaries. He also advocated an extra five cent tax on jai alai and dog race bets to bring them in line with horse race wagering levels.

Senator Fox said he would support legislation to make State supported colleges co-educational and that he favored the plan to admit women to the University of Florida.

Charley Fox Named Legion Dist. Head

MIAMI, Mar. 8. —(FNS)—Nearly 200 delegates representing 21 American Legion auxiliaries filed into the Harvey Seeds Post home last week for the fifth district's war planning conference, which saw Mrs. C. J. Fox, West Palm Beach, elected district president for the coming year.

Mrs. Fox was also elected a delegate to the National conference, should there be one this spring. Others named were Mrs. E. F. Westfall, of Harvey Seeds, Miami; Mrs. A. J. Ryan, Dania, and Mrs. Grace, Engman, Lake Worth.

The importance of choosing a post-war planning chairman in each unit was stressed in a talk by Mrs. Westfall, who also urged increased attention to child welfare and rehabilitation of hospitalized veterans.

HONOR SHIP

TAMPA, Mar. 8. —(FNS)—Vice Admiral R. K. Turner, commander of amphibious forces, U. S. Pacific Fleet, paid special tribute to a ship built at the yard of the Tampa Shipbuilding Company in 1941, the U. S. S. Bellatrix, which, the admiral reports, has given consistently fine service in practically every major amphibious campaign against the Japanese.

Because of her splendid performance in successfully running the gauntlet of enemy attacks in carrying needed supplies to our forces, she became known as "The Galloping Ghost of the Solomons Coast."

"They Live Forever" To Be Shown Sunday At Baptist Church

By request, Mrs. C. A. Mobey will sing "Rock of Ages" at the eleven o'clock service this Sunday. First Baptist Church of Pahokee, accompanied at the piano by her husband, Rev. Mobey, whose sermon will be "The Rock".

Thanks to the attendance of 200 in Sunday School, and 100 in Training Union, the situation looks most favorable for Easter Sunday with its goals of 500 and 125, respectively, able to mention the hoped-for addition of $500 to the new building fund. Every penny contributed on Easter Sunday in all departments will be used for the above, not one cent to be used for church expenses.

The pastor feels that because of the fine membership and the many friends of the church, Easter Sunday night will find him on his knees by his bed thanking God for Victory.

This Sunday night at eight, an inspiring 50-minute feature with sound motion picture dealing with the spiritual aspects of World War Two, will be presented. The title of the picture is "They Live Forever".

It was produced by Mr. Irwin A. Moon and other members of the Moody Bible Institute staff. It adds to its vivid picture of army and navy training a revelation of the spiritual needs of our men going into combat. The audience hears at first hand of miracles God wrought in the Rickenbacker party rescue, lives brought back the last 41 days on Bataan with Col. Clarke, an outstanding Christian character, as this army of long experience gives his Christian testimony, learns how men are finding God in this war, and how God is using Irwin A. Moon's "Sermon from Science," to bring servicemen to Christ. Ten thousand saw it in two nights at Moody Church, Chicago, where the pastor is Dr. H. A. Ironside, one of America's leading ministers and Bible Teachers. Chaplain Howard W. Rushlow, U. S. A. Lincoln Army Air Field says "The largest Sunday night crowd we have had packed the chapel, eight were definite in their decision for Christ, many others expressed interest in their personal salvation." Secretary W. R. White, S. S. Board, Southern Baptist Convention says "They Live Forever" is positive, Christian from every angle, a tremendous contribution, presents Christ and the way of life to servicemen in the most effective manner I've seen." Because of the interest and anticipated overflow, and the request of many the picture will be shown twice, eight o'clock and nine fifteen, enabling those of other churches to share. An offering will be received at the close of each showing to help finance the giving of this film to Our Chaplain so that our boys might in this most effective manner receive the gospel. Mr. J. C. Yelton, Moody representative, will arrive Sunday.
